A New Anhedonia

Phosphorescent

(Verse)
Colder the night came and we call it a day
The howling at midnight called me away
Out in the moonlight, I have been but neat
So now cause these moments happened to me
All of the colors I couldnt believe
Called out now cousin, you fooling with me
All of the pleasures and a void into me
All the music, all in me(Chorus)
Its unbearable real
To find you feeling so tired,
I go for you
I know you were chasing it but
Well it had to have been
So holy Im wasting it, like a prayer to the moon(Verse)
Head on my shoes, Im steer clear of the trees
And on the dunes among them
Tim will release
And in the blue, we both bowed in the breeze
All the music and fallen to me(Chorus)
Its unbearable real
To find you feeling so tired,
I go for you
I know you were chasing it but
Well it had to have been
So holy Im wasting it, like a prayer to the moonA holy Im wasting it, just a prayer to the moon
