Trail Of Tears

Testament

See the sun as the day is done
Life is of the broken ones
Some will stray as time will comeAll their lives, they live it well
Red man proud and giving hell
Some will stand and in shining tall
Can you hear them callSee the sun as its setting still Tears fall from a warrior
Damn those who I feelSet a trail to the promised land
Mother and child holding hand in hand
Through the snow or through the sands
All across the landWell full moon's are rising from the sky
A warriors riding and you ride with the wind
So far away, the spirits will guide you
Well no more sorrow, dont look back, your freedom will follow
You're flying so free, cant you see on the trail of tearsWell full moon's are rising from the sky
A warriors riding and you ride with the wind
So far away, the spirits will guide you
Well no more sorrow, dont look back, your freedom will follow
You're flying so free, so cant you see, on the trail of tears
