

A Little Bit Better

Tim Stop

I've been in a haze for a little while Staggered and dazed and I'm up all night
Trying to shake it, shake it off with all my might
But I can't sleep, I can't eat
I can hardly stand up on my two feet
And I rest my head on stone in the cold hard street But everyday it's a little bit better, everyday it's a little bit Everyday it's a little bit better, everyday it's a little bit I've been checking the phone for a lifeline but it's a different kind of alone when you're locked and trapped inside your mind But everyday it's a little bit better, everyday it's a little bit Everyday it's a little bit better, everyday it's a little bit I was in a good space, I had my own place
Had the warm sun shining upon my face but that dream world disappeared without a trace
But really it left at the perfect time
Right when I was need of another rhyme
And it goes like this if you hear me sing it with Hush little baby, hush little girl
Daddy's gonna get you the whole wide world
Hush little baby, hush little girl
I'm gonna get it for you
