False Alarm

Sloan

I know that I'm just a friend
Not what you'd call a relation
I wonder what they would say
Regarding this situationOh yeahLooking forward 'til next time
I promise that I won't drag my feet
Always looking for reasons
To walk on your streetOh yeahIt's been so long
You think you're on your own
Just taking it slow
But something always happens
Whenever we're together
It showsI feel that I'm out of touch
Not very good at pretending
But when you sail in my path
I don't know what I'm defendingOh yeahLooking forward 'til next time
I might as well just admit defeat
It's the bridge to "falling"
I always repeatOh yeahIt's been so long
It feels like a false alarm
You think you're on your own
Just taking it slow
But something always happens
Whenever we're togetherIt's been so long
It feels like a false alarm
You think you're on your own
I take that it shows
That something always happens
Whenever we're together
It goes
