The Point

Vanilla Sky

Another day closed in my mind Think of the things they say I like They take my time I lose the sight Of all the things I really needScared of anything I'm not I'm looking for the answer you've got I'm not made up of what you areI'll catch the secret and put it in my head
I won't let them the chanche to use me anymore
I feel confused now And lost inside me cause they want me to give up everything I loveAnd while they're trying to waste my time Condemning people of every kind Of difference as a human race
I'm makin'my own theoryNow I've got an answer
Now I know there's something wrong "You're what you have not what you are"I catch the secret
and put it in my head
and now I'm sure that they won't use me anymore I felt confused there and lost inside of me but now I won't give up everything that I loveI won't believe you care at all and everytime that you'll say "goodbye" I'll watch my back from your hateFor every people who fells in disgrace
For every prayer to God that I made For every time I lost my prideI catch the secret
And put it in my head
And now I'm sure that they won't use me
I felt confused there
and lost inside of me
but now I won't give up everything that I love
