Regret

The Robot Ate Me

Regret won't change who you are,
Unless you take its lessons too far
Look out, for the road gets rough.
Look out, for you've had enough.Change isn't a way
To blame your mistakes
On the choices you've made.
Come back, from your lonely stand
Come back, face the world you've left.Carousel spin over our heads
Come share the sunshine
With your life as the light.My life won't change at all,
Unless I live what I've lost.
Give more, before I give up
Live more, before life isn't enough.
