

Where Is The Next One Coming From

Buddy Guy

Well I had a job, but I got laid off
I had a heart but it got too soft
I had a girlfriend and she lied
I had a wife but my wife, she died One too many drinks about an hour ago
All I want now's just one more
And when it hit, a baby, I don't care Where, where, where, oh where
Where is the next one comin' from?
Where is the next one comin' from? Some folks they say there's just one thing
Where is the next one comin' from?
Gonna make 'em dance and gonna make 'em sing
Where is the next one comin' from? Had a little of that and had a little of this
Where is the next one comin' from?
Well, I checked 'em all off 'a my list
Where is the next one comin' from? All I know is don't get enough
All I get is this old rough stuff
But when I do, oh, baby, I don't care Where, where, where, oh where
Where is the next one comin' from?
Where is the next one comin' from? I want more
Gimme, gimme, gimme, gimme, gimme
Oh, yeah, I want more, yeah Where is the one comin' from?
Where is the one comin' from? Where is the one comin' from?
All I want is my belly full
Where is the next one comin' from?
It's a natural thing for an animal Where is the next one comin' from?
Well I'm tired all of that give and take
Where is the next one comin' from?
About all I got was a bellyache And once a kid has come to town
He talked like a fool and he dressed like a clown
Only love could have put him down Where, where, where, oh where
Where is the next one comin' from?
Where is the next one comin' from? Where is the next one comin' from?
Where is the next one comin' from?
Where is the next one comin' from?
