

Reign On Your Parade

Gob

Fractured life your silence heard
It's what you didn't want what other didn't see
Painful past you'd rather die
Than try to explain how it hurts inside
Don't you think their future's filled
With dire problems?
You clench your fist, you close your eyes
Don't point the blame
You might find yourself the same

You terrify, you dare deny this poor kids life
There's not much more to identify
When something's wrong the end is near
There's not much more that I can do
You took it all their innocence left behind
With scars and shameful tears
It doesn't need to be this way
It seems that it will never go away
