

Turn on the Darkness

Between the Buried and Me

The winters breathe evenly
Flickering moments engage our senses
Slowly trembling advantage
They won't take notice
Dragging feet
Will time notice me? We turn our backs on ourselves
Nothing inside I see a flame erupt in the distance
The chatter calls towards my direction
A wealth of moving light
They now seek my disguise
Legs soon crack as they stand above below Where do you drink from, sir?
This land is for those who have lost
Where humanity has passed its curse
We roll with all that's left
I come from a movable past
A distant future, he's in my grasp
You all will survive this fate
Trust the man you curse Take me with your blaze
Choke the ? away
They can all sit with our teachings
Above, they ?
Above, they ?
?Dark? improves me
Dark skies are hallow
Above, they ?
Above, they ?
?Dark? improves me
Can't pass the damage to this life
Dark skies are hallow
Can't pass the damage to this life Welcome to our journey
Please walk with me, I'll put your mind at ease
Our breath, disrupts their flames
We walk through their walls
Life exists apart from this
Welcome to our journey
Please walk with me, I'll put your mind at ease
Our breath, disrupts their flames
We walk through their walls
Life exists apart from this

This lone world drifts on and on
This lone world drifts on and on

We turn our backs on ourselves
Nothing in sights
We turn our backs on ourselves
They won't take notice
