

The Dragon's Lair

Crystal Eyes

[Music: Mikael Dahl o L:lyrics: Andreas Gotesson] Way up north where the eagles sore, beneath a mountain, whitin its core

There's a treasure, you've been told, lakes of silver and hills of gold

But the stories they also told about the dragon who killed the bold who dare to enter his dark domains to steal his treasure, they died in flames![Pre-Chorus]

 Into the darkness you go

 Defying the dangers ahead

 In search for silver and gold

 Driven by greed[Chorus]

Upon his treasure lies the creature rare

 A sleeping beast of fire and air

 Well, enter thief now if you dare

Yes enter fool! the dragon's lair Down in the dungeons you make your way

 In total darkness, is it night or day?

 Slowly sneaking on soundless feet, moving towards the increasing heat

 The smell of sulphur, the gragon's near,

 but so is the treasure so don't feel fear

 The call of gold you just can't deny

In death awaits: well, you have to try[Pre-Chorus]

 [Chorus][Bridge:]

 Shining silver and glittering gold

 It's beyond your wildest dreams and you steal with eyes that gleams

 But the sound of ringing gold wakes the beast of stories told

 The rattling coins seal your fate

 With a single glance into his CRYSTAL EYES, your greedy soul is lost, turned to ice![Solo: Nyberg - Dahl]

 [Pre- Chorus]

 [Chorus]
