Vertigo (do The Demolition)

Duran Duran

Hey guys, turn it up to get sleazy
Twist it in a vise
Nobody said it was easy
Just use your naked eyes, oh
How to see and how to hide it
How to save it well, maybe, maybe, maybe
You could take it and eat it
And chew your life supply
Where's the real life, in your illusion
On the dark side, your powers and confusion
Do the dance, do the demolition
And lose the chance to hear when you don't listen
Don't you feel edgy?
Bite your lips and bleed
Conversation is empty
Abandoned in the freeze
Freedom is the only condemnation
Free to say well, maybe, maybe, maybe, maybe
You can take it or leave it
Just need a little hit tonight
Where's the real life, in your illusion
On the dark side of power and confusion
Do the dance, do the demolition
Don't lose the chance to hear 'cause you don't listen
Maybe, maybe, maybe, maybe
You could try to believe it
Just need a little help tonight
Where's the real life, in your illusion
On the dark side of power and confusion
Do the dance, do the demolition
And lose the chance to hear when you don't listen
Where's the real life, in your illusion
On the dark side of power and confusion
You do the dance, do the demolition
And lose the chance to hear when you don't listen
Hear it when you listen
You can't hear when you don't listen
Hear it when you listen
Hear when you don't listen
