Trampling Rose

Moonpools & Caterpillars

So stay unmolested
Stand tall, dont fall to the wayside
Sinking sand, delivery man, policewoman
Government man will listen to your screamsI know a place across the road
Where the soul will listen
Stars are out and stars are bright
And my eyes will glistenOn the water, on the water, on the water
On that water like a trampling rose
Like a trampling rose, like a trampling rose, trampling rose
I'm wrongIt doesnt matter if Im young or if Im cold
Stay on the line, never get by
'Cause laziness does not pay
My heart is set on this old winters daySon of a gun, you got me stunned
You cut me down, dont bother me
Ive never been wrong, never been right
Never belonged, Im never in sightOn the water, on the water, on the water
On that water like a trampling rose
Like a trampling rose, like a trampling rose, trampling roseSun wont lie to you
No, the sun wont lie to you
And if you catch the lying sun
Well, you can knock him down and you can bring him homeI am alone, the sun is going down
Waiting patiently for the waterly crown
I shoot through the 'cause I want to shoot you
Shoot through me, shoot through you
I want to spit in the air, am I there?On the water, on the water, on the water
On that water like a trampling rose
Like a trampling rose, like a trampling rose, trampling rose
