Fleshless

Travagard

Fleshless I crawl
Drifting alone
By the realm of the living
Eternal I have become
I will never die
I shall nourish the unborn
Shadowed until the end of time
Twilight is upon me
And deep below I lay
I accept my fast it comes
Why should I be afraid to die
Soon my night will fall
Only dreams remain
Through another day
Seems so lonely
In this cold domain
Tainted by my sinful past
Shadows over me it casts
They very power of my soul
Will last until we all shall fall
Painful as it is
I have to realise
I'm not the only one
There is thousands more to die
Only grief remains
With hate I will pass away
To my land of dreams
Thus it shall stand until we all shall fall
We all shall fall
