Look a Little Higher

JJ Weeks Band

Look A Little Higher
JJ Weeks Band

Lift up your empty hands
Lay down your cares again
Let go of all you think you can't

Hear more than fear resound
Feel more than all your doubt
See more than where you are right now

Look a little higher
Than the storm that's all around
Look a little higher
Than the rain that's pouring down
If the morning hasn't come
Then your story isn't done
Look a little higher

Let truth surround your heart
He won't leave you where you are
The dawn will always come and break the dark

Look a little higher
Than the storm that's all around
Look a little higher
Than the rain that's pouring down
If the morning hasn't come
Then your story isn't done
Look a little higher

To the way who makes a way
Lift up your eyes
To the one whose overcome
Lift up your eyes
To the way who makes a way
Lift up your eyes
To the one whose overcome
Lift up your eyes

He is higher
Than the storm that's all around
He is higher
Than the rain that's pouring down
He's the morning
He's the sun
He's the promise
He's enough

Look a little higher
Than the storm that's all around
Look a little higher
Than the rain that's pouring down
If the morning hasn't come
Then your story isn't done
Look a little higher
(To the way who makes a way)
(To the one whose overcome)
Look a little higher
(To the way who makes a way)
(To the way who makes a way)
(To the one whose overcome)
(To the once whose overcome)

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/