Heaven On Earth

Two Nice Girls

(Laurie Freelove)
There's a light, and it plays in every shadow
While the moon, well it tugs at ocean tides
And there are roots growing underneath the gravel
This is life, eternal on the prowl
And it's born into our living
Like a breath of ancient wild
We're anchored to its wisdom
We're in the orbit of its power somehow
Oh, but somehow
(Chorus)
We are still longing soul after soul
Dancing in shadows that fall from the moon
We are still yearning touch after touch
Reaching to heaven for what's here on this earth
Here on this earth
All that binds this fate to us is hidden away in gods and flags and walls of faith
That fear has some place
But fear has no place
There is love behind an angry eye
And there is hope inside a fearful heart
And this is truth just waiting to unravel
Our lives, eternal in its power
Oh
While the earth and moon are spinning
Romancing satellites
Faithful to the rhythm
Of an extraordinary rhyme somehow
Oh, but somehow
(Chorus)
