Lonely War

Crash Kings

come inside and break the locks any day any day nowwhisper softly this is the life when in rome, when in romeand i hope you find it what you're looking for but until that day comesin the end it's just an open door to your lonely war, to your lonely war figure this is just an underscore to your lonely wartake away a simple joy you'll never know, you'll never know make believe this is the life and run along, run alongwell i hope you find it what you're searching for but until that day comesin the end it's just an open door
to your lonely war
figure this is just an underscore
to your lonely waryou turned out to be what you feared cuz no one asked you to belong and now you're gone

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/