The Outside

Red

What if I'm not the same?
What if I never let go of the blame?
What if you drag me back again?
What if I won't let you just pretend?
I erase this memory
I escape this gravity
Is that how I used to be?
Is that the price of my identity?
I'm standing on the outside
I'm looking in on what you can't hide
I'm dying on the inside
'Cause now I can see your lies from the outside
What if I'm still ashamed?
What if I can't let go of the pain?
What if I have something to lose?
What if I've got nothing left to prove?
I replace this life you stole
I embrace the world I know
What if you were always wrong?
And what if I said I knew it all along?
I'm standing on the outside
I'm looking in on what you can't hide
I'm dying on the inside
'Cause now I can see your lies from the outside
Pull me out, pull me out, pull me out, pull me out
Pull me out, pull me out, pull me out, pull me out
Pull me out, pull me out, pull me out, pull me out
Pull me out, pull me out
I'm not you, I will never be you
I'm not you, I won't let you pull me through
I'm standing on the outside
I'm looking in on what you can't hide
I'm dying on the inside
'Cause now I can see your lies from the outside
I'm standing on the outside
I'm looking in on what you can't hide
I'm dying on the inside
'Cause now I can see your lies from the outside

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/