

Battles

Cazadores

Battles

I'm sinking like a cannonball
Faster than a kiss I fade away
Lost inside your architecture
 Hit by a waterfall I wake
She goes running on the West Side
 Steps that I can't trace
My Brooklyn days were such a letdown
 Seems I went and lost my way

We go over the line, over the line and dance the night away
Only for now, hold me for now, until the light of day

Sleepwalking through these ancient corridors astray
I'm stronger than the pyramids, bigger than the walls that you defend
We go over the line, over the line and lose our sense of time
 If we keep our secrets hidden
 Our fingerprints will always tell

We go over the line, over the line and dance the night away
Only for now, hold me for now, until the light of day

In your eyes, in your eyes I see a thousand battles
In your eyes, in your eyes I see a thousand battles

Who do you want to be, what do you want to see
Where do you want to go when the curtain calls
Who do you want to be, what do you want to see
 Where do you want to go when it all unfolds

I didn't want to know, you didn't want to show
We didn't want to sleep through these nights alone
 I didn't want to know, you didn't want to show
 We didn't want to sleep through these nights alone

We go over the line, over the line and dance the night away
Only for now, hold me for now, until the light of day

In your eyes, in your eyes I see a thousand battles

In your eyes, in your eyes I see a thousand battles

Lyrics submitted by Mads.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>