The Rain

Oh Wonder

Ever since the rain I've been waking on my own
Left an empty space in a home we built to grow
Watching waves at night I fell into the blue
I guess I lost the light, now I've given all my love to youI've given all my love to you
I've given all my love to you
I've given all my love to you
I've given all my, given all my love to you, youEver since the rain I've been living days too slow
Lie around and wait for a heart I used to know
They say that over time there'll be nothing left to lose
But I still can't find the light, I've given all my love to youI've given all my love to you
I've given all my love to you
I've given all my love to you
I've given all my, given all my love to youI've given all my love to you
I've given all my love to you
I've given all my love to you
I've given all my, given all my love to yoIn the night when I'm dreaming
Oh I know your body's next to mine
In the dark I can feel it
Don't you tell me I'm dreamingWon't you stay with me?
Won't you stay with me?
Oh won't you stay with me?
Won't you stay with me?
Won't you stayI've given all my love to you
I've given all my love to you
I've given all my love to you
I've given all my, given all my love to youI've given all my love to you
I've given all my love to you
I've given all my love to you
I've given all my, given all my love to you, you
