

Sometime Later (Tim Simenon Mix)

Alpha

Touch my hand
It's only me, listen
I'm here.Come to stand
In sultry fields
With you.And now
Old dummy day
I know
Is over this way.I'm laughing
Saw you gonna kiss me
You see
Yeah as I said.One day she won't
A lonely bird
Alone.Judgment day
Saw the world it's gone
Unheard.Sold the sea
A lot how it feels to me.I hate the word it's sad to see
I take your weight
And your heart fades away
Today a renegade
To lay in woods
By the pheasants.I mean it
You don't
Force on my head
Kill our nightmare.A lonely bird, a lonely bird
A lonely bird, a lonely bird
A lonely bird, alone.Color me
Cover me in the color that reminds you
Solemnly.Could make the same mistake
And you would never know
That I am, that I am
Alone, now.Something, something
Tells me that you
Have something
On, all of us now
You're heaven
Taking over me now
Color me hate
Raw little nerve
Color me and pull us

Only home
Me home. Hold the sun down
    Hold the sun down
    Hold the moon down
    Leave me to rest
    Want the world man
    Too the words out
    Only relief is
To slip through the nets
    Hold a minute
    And stop a minute
    And go, oh oh
    Hold a minute
    You said to me
    Said to me and
Breath, breath, breath, breath, breath
    You said it to me
    Sometime later.

Songwriters

DINGLEY, CORIN PAUL THOMAS / JENKS, ANDREW MICHAELPublished by Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damlyrics.com/>