Well You Wanna Know What?

Bratmobile

Oh no! She hates me again, but it's alright
'Cause we're so much alike, you know
Oh yeah, you are such a coward
But it's alright 'cause you hide it so well
You can not feel anything
I care, so you win again
Oh no, no it's never your fault
But you say it don't matter what you do
Oh yeah, 'cause I'll always hate you
Well you wanna know what? well now I do!
I woke up with fever dreams
I know it was not my fault
So you're the tough girl, think you been through it all
But you don't know this and you can't feel that
And you didn't even try, you have no idea
What i'm going through now, and you wouldn't want to
After all that's happened to me, still you're thinking
Of yourself and your fans and those who tell you
Everything that you want, but nothing that you need
I have nothing left to hid, it's your problem I see.
Oh no! She hates me again, but it's alright
'Cause we're so much alike, you know
Oh yeah, you are such a coward
But it's alright 'cause you hid it so well
You can not feel anything
I care, so you win again
Oh no, no it's never your fault
But you say it don't matter what you do
Oh yeah, 'cause I'll always hate you
Well you wanna know what? well not I do!
I woke up with fever dreams
I know it was not my fault
I will stand tall and I will stand proud
'Cause I know my only crime was to stand up to
Your years of lies and your absentees
I saw who my friends were in my time of need.
Where were you were nowhere to be found
Even in death you couldn't lay your ego down
I know that your answer is I got you all wrong

But I don't think so, so I'm singing this song.
Oh no, no it's never your fault
But you say it don't matter what you do
Oh yeah, 'cause I'll always hate you
Well you wanna know what? well now I do!
