

Hey Jade

Maxine

Hey Jade I wonder how you been thinking of you every now and then
What were you really running from
As I'm watching the westward sun
Why'd you have to go
Was it too much to handle oh
Why'd you have to leave
Was it too much to deal with ohAs time flies I'll be drifting away
But I'll keep a little memory of you
And as it passes I will be right here
Dreaming of love living my dreamsHey Jade standing over there
Where do you think your going at this time
It's 3am and theirs snow on the ground
And your making my head spin round
Do you have to go
Do you have to leave
How many times must you die all over again
Can't you stay what make you free
Oh JadeAs time flies I'll be drifting away
But I'll keep a little memory of you
And as it passes I will be right here
Dreaming of love living my dreamsHey Jade I wonder how you been thinking of you every now and then
What were you really running from
As I'm watching the moon become So full so bright
And now I'm watching the stars in the sky
Whose gonna hold you when you cry
Oh JadeAs time flies I'll be drifting away
But I'll keep a little memory of you
And as it passes I will be right here
Dreaming of love living my dreamsAs time flies I'll be drifting away
But I'll keep a little memory of you
