Keeping Secrets

Dear Lord I'm suffering
It seems my hearts gone missing
I can feel the beat, but i feel no emotion
Please reach down deep inside pull out the beating life
It's useless it's worthless to me

Down on my knees praying for a reason
To go on, where is my hope?
This mirror reflects only failure and heartbreak

So sound the alarm
And rush the ambulance
Inflate my collapsed lungs
So I can breath again
I've been here before
But will I make it out alive
In silence I recite

My discontent with life
Now you can breathe, life into me
Dear Lord I'm suffering
It seems my hearts gone missing
I can feel the beat
But i feel no emotion
So wrap your arms around me
And show me something more
Anything worth breathing for
Show me the light
Show me the sign
Show me the way back home
Wake me up
Give me life
