Miss the Boat

Madeleine

Late night crying makes perfect sense to me
Curled up under a blanket of memories
Of you and me
You and me

Colder and colder, no I just can't get warm
There's times I swear I still feel your arms
In this winter storm
Snowflakes are thorns

THE WORLD TURNS OLDER
WE MOVE SLOWER
AND YOU'LL FIND SOMETIMES
YOU JUST MISS THE BOAT

Should be stars that shine on wars like ours
And kiss the broken ribs that couldn't hold our hearts
And heal the scars
Of what we are

What if we had met at a different time?
Would you still be here and still be mine?
I close my eyes
And wonder why

THE WORLD TURNS OLDER
WE MOVE SLOWER
AND YOU'LL FIND SOMETIMES
YOU JUST MISS THE BOAT (X2)

And watch your something sail away (x3)

THE WORLD TURNS OLDER
WE MOVE SLOWER
AND YOU'LL FIND SOMETIMES
YOU JUST MISS THE BOAT (X2)

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/