Scape Goat

Jacobs Dream

Let's blame the music world or maybe the gun makers
What about the books and movies, our scape goats they will be Gaze into the cyber realm and its information sea
Images of Light and darkness, manifest ideologiesDon't you know that you have the power
Entrusted with your children's lives
Let them know that there are no scape goats
Teach them well to know wrong from rightGaze into the children's eyes, behold a window to the soul
Images of Light and darkness, inner conflict to behold Government and selfserving people have torn apart the heart of the home
And now we run in search for excuses
to give account for the monsters we've madeDon't you know that you have a power
Entrusted with your children's lives
Let them know that there are no scape goats
Teach them well to know wrong from right
Know wrong from rightGovernment and selfserving people
Have torn apart the heart of the home
And now we run in search for excuses
To give account for the monsters we've made
Don't you know that you have a power
Entrusted with your children's lives
Let them know that there are no scape goats
Teach them well to know wrong from right
No scapegoats, no scapegoats!
