Take Another Look

Steve Reid

you said that i didn't turn out right you said i screwed it up you said that it was all for nothing and that I made mistakes from the start {take, take another look, take another look at me} you hate all the friends around me, but what about all the liars you got, you hate everything about me cause you're perfect and i'm not {chorus} and i can't forget the reasons and i won't forget why i can't bond with you like you said we used to and you ruined a piece of my life, now my memories bleed for remembrance smiles with you are pictures in a book, and i won't wish we were the way were until you take another look
