

Wolves

Marduk

Wolves
Many miles they went
To reach this point
They went here to seek what they lost
What they lost before time
Before the first rays of light
In the worst torment of allDespair
They dedicated their existence to follow
To explore
And how they searched
Eternity, darkness, the black
They were only a piece
Of the complete puzzleThey the warriors they were
In a never ending maze of ConfusionThe life they so intensively hated
Wolves so many lifetimes they
Went to reach this point
And yet so many lifetimes to go
Eternity, darkness, the black
They were only a piece of the Complete puzzle
They - the warriors they were
In a never ending maze of confusion
