Sit Back, Relax

Ryan Cabrera

Wrong street, I'm falling on the other side
Can't sleep, I know I've been here before
And I need her love tonight
Talking, I can't hear a word they say
Blackout, I'm living in a different day
And I need her love tonight
Every thing's wrong, she's alright
Sit back, relax, you know she'll come around again
Opens your eyes and drives to where you've never been
Sit back, relax, sometimes she's gonna weigh you out
Ride off the tracks, you know it's gonna break you down
It's gonna burn you down, it's gonna break you down
It's gonna break you down
Cold feet, I'm walking down the same street
Shake it off, it's the cure that fights the disease
And she's my drug tonight
Oh, lights out neighborhood fire
Red skies, it?s burning down the city tonight
She's my one desire
Every thing's wrong, she's alright
Sit back, relax, you know she'll come around again
Opens your eyes and drives to where you've never been
Sit back, relax, sometimes she's gonna weigh you out
Ride off the tracks, you know it's gonna break you down
It's gonna burn you down, it's gonna break you down
It's gonna break you down
Open your eyes, open your eyes
Open your eyes
Every thing's wrong, she's alright
Sit back, relax, you know she'll come around again
Open your eyes and drives to where you've never been
Sit back, relax, sometimes she's gonna weigh you out
Ride off the tracks, you know it's gonna break you
(Down)
Sit back, relax, you know she'll come around again
(Down)
It's gonna break you, it's gonna break you
(Down)
It's gonna break you down
