Epitome

Kammarheit

Lost, it's been a long time
For this moment to come
Lost, it's been a long line
Where I've been waiting too long
Lost, it's been a long time
For this moment to come
Lost, it's been a long line
Where I've been waiting too long
All those words and the consequences
Won't you please shed some light?
All the fear and all that joy
Guide my way as I turn in desire
How it hurts when I give up
The way that it ends
Twist and turn till it erupts
The way it commands
Lost, it's been a long fight
And it kept holding on
Lost, it's been a long sigh
It has been clearing my mind
All those years being overloaded

All the strength I put in
Let me share what I've done to myself
I've been losing to win
How it hurts when I give up
The way that it ends
Twist and turn till it erupts
The way it commands
How it hurts when I give up
You don't understand
Twist and turn, the way it looks
Into my eyes again
How it hurts when I give up
The way that it ends
Twist and turn till it erupts
The way it commands
How it hurts when I give up
You don't understand

Twist and turn, the way it looks
The way it commands
The way it commands
