The Reckoning

Living Sacrifice

Infamy, you've lost your way again
This was the day, the day that you resigned
Infamy, this was not His designI was yours, you were mine, cannot describe
I was yours, you were mine, this pain inside
Now I've turned to look only a shadow remains
My land has been laid to waste, a drop of hope is all I tasteThis is a reckoning of love, the calculation of my heart
This is a reckoning of love, the calculation of my death
No hope for return, you have brought infamy
No hope for return, speaking grace solemnlyDepression, sets in
The serpent, stakes its claim
Losing faith what it means to be alive
The shadows all around me dance for sorrowI was yours, you were mine, cannot describe
I was yours, you were mine, this pain inside
Now I've turned to look only a shadow remains
My land has been laid to waste, a drop of hope is all I tasteThis is a reckoning of love, the calculation of my heart
This is a reckoning of love, the calculation of my death
No hope for return, you have brought infamy
No hope for return, speaking grace solemnlyThis is a reckoning
This is a reckoning
This is a reckoning
This is your reckoning
