Illusions

Mark Salling

I seen a figurehead talking on the news today he said he'd gone and moved a body in a positive way like a slight of hand that happens quick he's gonna bust out this magic trick it's impossible that what we're seeing is gonna come togetherbut it's making me go crazy trying to figure out this illusionI was checking out a movie on a Saturday night found myself sympathizing with the character's plight cause he used to be good but not anymore now he's a star but he started a war but there's nothing telling me that he can make it happenand why should I believe it's just some kind of illusionwhat exactly are you searching for?
I just wanted something to believe in the universe is so much more than the location you are seeing if I am supposed to be alone then why do I dream of you daily?
I'll fake it through till I come home as I praywhat exactly are you searching for?
I just wanted something to believe in
then why do I dream of you daily?
I'll fake it through till I come home as I prayNow the show is over the magician is gone and the movie is due back on Sunday morning start us then capitalize cause reality's a cross when you're crossing your eyes and it starts from wanting to believe in the supernaturalbut it's making me go crazy making me go crazy
trying to figure out this illusion
