

My Evil Twin

4Lyn

My evil twin, bad weather friend
He always wants to start when I want to begin
It scares me so, like I scare myself with that book of Nostradamus up upon my shelfPlaying hangman 'til the morning light Doing donuts on the neighbors lawn
Then sleep all through the day, get up and start again
I can hear some sirens somewhere but I don't know whyMy evil twin runs home again
Search lights look for an alibi, but I'll be home by thenHere he comes again, my evil twin
My friends have seen him hiding underneath my skinWho cut the arm off the voodoo doll
That resembles a Republican President from long ago
I'd hate to see you leave 'cause I have grown so grateful
For the blame you save me fromMy twin, my twin
My twin, my twinI know he looks like my, hates work like me
And walks like me, he's even got a twin like me
My evil twin, bad weather friend
I know some day I'll meet him but I don't know where or when
