

You and Rea

Moor Hound

Pick me up
Even if it's just for a while
Breathe in me
Just enough to keep me alive
Your mouth speaks more power
Than any old god of mine
Shine the dim
To reflect your inescapable lightIf this world can't give me what I need
Then I guess it's time for me to leaveNo better sense
Than to let go of my judgement
No better defense
My spirit is too hopeful to protect
Falling through
An ever-present danger to expect
Ease the doubt
Shake my shoulders with your words effectIf this world can't give me what I need
Then I guess it's time for me to leave
I will row and tie a boulder to my feet
Make my home at the bottom of the sea
