Release

Aztec Camera

Silver shone the rooftops, I heard the words, 'You will' And realized that in your eyes, the force of love could kill

So go and get your wages, get what you deserve

When hope held out its hands today, you laughed and turned and fledRelease, 'cause I wanted the world

All I could get to was a gun or a girl

Release, now I've thrown them away

I'm here and I'm hungry and I hope I can stayThe loch is overflowing, the sun has shed its light And all that's left to warm your breast's the wine we stole tonight

Bottle merchants, both of us, overdosed on Keats

We smashed them all and watched them fall like magic in the streetsRelease, 'cause I wanted the world

All I could get to was a gun or a girl

Release, now I've thrown them away

I'm here and I'm hungry and I hope I can stayStanding in our new boots, we've lost the urge to hide

Left it with the souvenirs that forced us to decide

How we'd storm the palace, meet me at the gates

There's plenty bread and water here for anyone who waitsRelease, 'cause I wanted the world

All I could get to was a gun or a girl

Release, now I've thrown them away

I'm here and I'm hungry and I hope I can stayBut you can't remember where you squandered your hope

A fistful of dollars and a fistful of dope

With your hands in your hair and your hair in your face

You'd summon your soul because we're leaving this place

With a red, red flag and a red, red flag, red, red flag for a souvenir

Red, red flag and a red, red flag and a red, red flag for a souvenir

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/