

I'm Glad You Called

Roxette

Hate to say I'm glad you called
But you know I always tell the truth
It's been a while and lots of miles
I wouldn't say I have been missing you
The first week I stayed in my bed
That summer went straight to my head
The first year without you
I walked like the dead
Hate to say I'm glad you called
Even though it doesn't matter now
There was a time I might've cared
But I'm seeing someone else now
I don't have to think very hard
To rewind every frame of my love
I never I could never get enough
Of your stuff
Look around look around look around
Babe, I look around
I look around look around look around
Babe, I look around
Hate to say I'm glad you called
But you know I always tell the truth
It's been a while and lots of miles
I wouldn't say that I've been missing you
The first week I cried in my bed
That summer I hurt and I bled
The first year without you
Is hard to forgive
So hard to forgive
So hard to forgive
