

Yeliel (My Angel)

Lara Fabian

Just like the sea, no one possesses you
And no one can go down to the deepest side of you
Just like a tree, decades and memories
Articulate and seal everyone of your dreams
When I need you, I secretly sing you this part of my soul
Yeliel, my angel, know that I can hear you
And every word you speak is holy wind caressing me
Yeliel, my angel, know that I can see you
And when I fall, I feel your arms around my destiny protecting me
I do believe some things are mysteries
The simple fact that we stand alive and we breathe
Why do I love? Why do I hate and die?
Where do these things all lie? I don't know why I cry
When I need you, I secretly sing you this part of my soul
Yeliel, my angel, know that I can hear you
And every word you speak is holy wind caressing me
Yeliel, my angel, know that I can see you
When I fall, I feel your arms around my destiny, protecting me
Yeliel, you are protecting me
Why do I love? Why do I hate and die?
Where do these things all lie? I don't know why I cry
When I need you I secretly sing you this part of my soul
Yeliel, my angel, know that I can hear you
And every word you speak is holy wind caressing me
Yeliel, my angel, know that I can see you
And when I fall, I feel your arms around my destiny
Yeliel, my angel, know that I can hear you
And every word you speak is holy wind caressing me
Yeliel, my angel, know that I can see you
And when I fall, I feel your arms around my destiny, protecting
Yeliel, my angel, know that I can feel you
And every word you speak is holy wind caressing me
Yeliel, my angel, know that I can see you
And when I fall, I feel your arms around my destiny
