Nora Marie

Tyler Hilton

Yeah, yeah, oh, girl, yeah
I know, you know that I just can't decide
Which way my heart will lead me
But you just sit, I think, boy, what should you do now?
Just wait until you sink meGirl, I don't see nothin' wrong with you and me together
I'll come out and shout it loud, there ain't nothing better, than myNora Marie, baby, can't you see?
I'll make time for you, but I'll need to decide
If my Nora Marie feels the same way for me
Well, I know you're new, in a way so am I, Nora MarieWell, you think you are through, but girl, you ain't seen nothing yet
I get twice of what you feel
Well, I'm so sure you know that I might even bet
I'll be playin' this reel to reelGirl, I don't want nothin' like, Boy, where have you been?
'Cause things'll be going fine when you take one look again, oh myNora Marie, baby, can't you see?
I'll make time for you, but I'll need to decide
But if my Nora Marie feels the same way for me
Well, I know you knew, in a way so did I, Nora MarieAnd you might say, "Ty, it would be so much safer"
Even though you might be lying
But one day, I swear I'll write this down on paper
But for now, I'm improvisingGirl, I can get all mixed up trying to be true
I think you can see the problem
Only answer's you, oh myNora Marie, baby, can't you see?
I'll make time for you, but I'll need to decide
If my Nora Marie feels the same way for me
Well, I know you knew, in a way so did I, Nora MarieOh, my Nora Marie, baby, can't you see?
I'll make time for you, but I'll need to decide
If my Nora Marie feels the same way for me
Well, I know you're new, but in a way so am I, Nora Marie

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/