

Unglued (as Heard In La Femme Nikita)

Jen Beast

Just a few words connected loosely to my heart

They're floating away
Just like balloons in the dark
So why did you retrieve them?
Why did you believe them all?

Just a few thoughts so careless

They come and they go
It's hardly time to notice
Barely time to grow
So how'd you ever see them?
Why do you believe them all?

I just want to be with you
A part of everything you're going through
Like it was before we came unglued

Holding every piece you tossed out
Nothing fits without you around
Like it did before we came unglued

The sun we woke to each day
Is starting to rise again
I haven't been to sleep yet
I don't know where you've been
I wonder if you see it
Wonder if you see it at all

I just want to be with you
A part of everything you're going through
Like it was before we came unglued

Holding every piece you tossed out
Nothing fits without you around
Like it did before we came unglued

Just a few words connected loosely to my heart

They're floating away
Just like balloons in the dark
So why did you retrieve them?

Why did you believe them at all?
