

Ready to Fall

Rise Against

Hold on, slow down, again from the top now
And tell me everything
I know I've been gone for, what seems like forever
But I'm here now waiting To convince you that I'm not a ghost or a stranger
But closer than you think
She said, "Just go on to what you
Pretend is your life but, please don't die on me" Wings won't take me
Heights don't faze me
So take a step
But don't look down, take a step Now I'm standing on the rooftop, ready to fall
I think I'm at the edge now but I could be wrong
I'm standing on the rooftop, ready to fall Perpetual motion, the image won't focus
A blur is all that's seen
But here in this moment, like the eye of a storm
It all came clear to me I found a shoulder to lean on
An infallible reason to live all by itself
I took one last look
From the heights that I once loved
And then I ran like hell Wings won't take me
Heights don't faze me
So take a step
But don't look down, take a step Now I'm standing on the rooftop, ready to fall
I think I'm at the edge now but I could be wrong
I'm standing on the rooftop, ready to fall I count the times that I've been sorry
(I know, I know)
Now my compassion slowly drowns
(I know, I know) If there's a time these walls could guard you
(I know, I know)
Then let that time be right now Now I'm standing on the rooftop
Now I'm standing on the rooftop, ready to fall
I'm standing on the rooftop, ready to fall
I think I'm at the edge now but I could be wrong
I'm standing on the rooftop, ready to fall Now I'm standing on the rooftop, ready to fall
Now I'm standing on the rooftop, ready to fall
Now I'm standing on the rooftop, ready to fall
Now I'm standing on the rooftop, ready to fall

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>