Empty

God Lives Underwater

Why won't you face me, it's been such a long time
I'm walking a fine line, now we're walking out
Why can't I see things like I'm supposed to see things
I'm not supposed to be this way, not this time aroundSometimes I feel so empty
So much pain, I still ignore, everyday I endure
Sometimes I feel so empty
So much pain, I still ignore, everyday you want moreMy expectations were high in the first place
Were high in the worst way, it leaves me so down
I give up easily, can't speak so freely
Won't someone release me just this time aroundSometimes I feel so empty
So much pain, I still ignore, everyday I endure
Sometimes I feel so empty
So much pain, I still ignore, everyday you want moreSometimes I feel so empty
So much pain, I still ignore, everyday I endure
Sometimes I feel so empty
So much pain, I still ignore, everyday you want more
