Superhero

Anthrax

When you praise my name, I'll fulfill your expectation
Looking for an answer that'll dignify your prayers
What remains when your savior becomes human?
You feel the legend something sacred you can't understand
Becomes bigger than the manPray for help cry out scream for me now
(I'm not your Superhero)
Pray for help cry out scream for you now
(I'm not your Superhero)All my love and hate radiate and become equals
Untouchable enmity has always been my fate
Mine alone agony destined to suffer
Eternally my story never goes as planned
And it's bigger than the manPray for help cry out scream for me now
(I'm not your Superhero)
Pray for help cry out scream for you now
(I'm not your Superhero)(Pray for help cry out scream for me now)
Once upon a time I would do anything
For anyone at anytime
And all I asked for was your faith
Was that to much to ask?There is no God, there is no king
There is no saint of broken dreams
There's only you and truth and soul
The Superhero is you ownThere is no God, there is no king
There is no saint of broken dreams
There's only you and truth and soul
The Superhero is you ownPray for help cry out scream for me now
(I'm not your Superhero)
Pray for help cry out scream for you now
(I'm not your Superhero)(Pray for help cry out scream for me now)
Once upon a time I would do anything
For anyone at anytime
And all I asked for was your faith
Was that to much to ask?
Was that to much to ask?
Was that to much to ask?
(I'm not your Superhero)
Was that to much to ask?
