

Unplugged

Empyrios

Ain't no room for us in your alternative nation
It seems you've had control for much too long
Your greed and your dishonesty only add to my frustration
    Can't you see the powers that be
    Don't give a fuck about you and me
    Somebody better say this
'Cause there ain't nobody trying to save us
    Just enslave us and leave us
    Hanging on a rope that they just gave us
    Victim of your mistrust
You, your dance, your stupid cash advance
    No, I'm not a victim of circumstance
    Not gonna leave my life to chance
    Rape the hearts of us, the artists
    You reap the benefits
    Your pockets, they get fat
    While our souls bleed
    You're getting away with murder
    "Son, you failed to read the fine print"
    Label whores like festering sores
Keep coming back, they got a deal for you
    No it's not just good enough to hate this
    'Cause we all know the ones in charge

    Are all so shameless
And wasted energy on the hate defeats our purpose
    Victim of your mistrust
    You, you take, our livelihood at stake
    And ain't no fake gonna steal my cake
    Our spirits much tough to break
    Victims of your mistrust
    Need to stop and read between those lines
Behind that smile the greed still shows in their eyes
    That's part of their disguise
    Don't believe the lies
    The more I learn about your game
The less I wish to be involved with you another day
    Just where do we fit in
    It looks like we'll never win

And with the next big trend
The cycle starts again
Don't let them turn you 'round and fall out of trust
You got to take control, don't let them have
They've got to work for us
Don't let them forget
They've got to earn the thrust

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>