Facepaint

Unjust

The way you found your mark
It enticed you
The fame and the heart
Lives inside youYou designed me...The way you never were Turns inside you
The prom queen is gone...
She doesn't likeThe stains burn thru the years now
It invites you
The same friends
I can play now
That's all for now, but maybe someday
Your passion, your hatred
You breathe scared
That's all for now, but maybe someday
You can feel the sameJust feel the same...The shame burns your eyes
You can't see it
You see yourself scarred up inside
You can't feel it.The stains burn thru the years now
It invites you
The same friends
I can play now
That's all for now, but maybe someday
Your passion, your hatred
You breathe scared
That's all for now, but maybe someday
You can feel the same.
