

Sunsets Over Salem

Sacred Sorrow

The orange circle fades away the
Distracting light
Leaving us to embrace this darkest
Night
The ground seems to shake beneath
Their feet
With no clue they stand tall and
Scream

I hear their screaming
Words with no meaning
No sense of meaning
Deafened by their shallow screams

The time arrives and the lantern
Burns the sky
With angels of salvation burning
Bright
The angels join in for the screams
As the savior spreads out his wings

I hear their screaming
Words with a meaning
True sense of meaning
Deafened by their sacred screams

As the sunsets on this day
An impact was made
A breath of fresh air entered the Wasteland
I think we've found a home.
