

Torn Apart

Enter Shikari

A naked eye

Conspires with fear to form an idea so destructive and insincere Reared in our mind but outside you'll find that nature does not align

Align

Alignhey You see there's more variation, more variation there's more within populations Variation, more variation, than their twin populationsAfter too many years a myth perseveres the stars and the souvenirs

Defined by our skin. forget we share kin

We're torn apartIt feels as if we're sinking, I don't know how we'll get to shore again

Sinking we'll surface through the waves

Sinking, I don't know how we'll get to shore again

Sinking, we'll surface through the wavesYou see there's more variation, more variation, there's more within populations

Variation, more variation than their twin populationsLike back to the past we hail from one cast this division will not last

Defined by our skin we forget we're kin

We're torn apartIt feels as if we're sinking, I don't know how we'll get to shore again

Sinking, we'll surface through the waves

Sinking, I don't know how we'll get to shore again

Sinking, we'll surface through the wavesSinking, I don't know how we'll get to shore again

Sinking, we'll surface through the waves

x 2Sinking, I don't know how we'll get to shore again

x 2
