One Thousand Apologies

Demon Hunter

There you stood in disbelief
Trying all you could to see
Through these lies
And every word that I could breathe
Would find you more inclined to leave
But I tried, I tried
And knowing what I've done to you
With every thought you suffer through
My heart as black as evil can
And everything I could've been Erased by what I wanted then
I couldn't think a lesser man
All the delicate ways
That had deepened our graves
My apology pales
Oh, the pain in your eyes
My regrets have never known such sorrow
Oh, the shame that you hide
Resolutions are the same tomorrow
So now I reap what I have sown
And any rapture I had shown
Has bled dry
And I walked the streets alone
Accepting the pain I'd never known
As you died, you died
Then I hurt myself to see it too
To feel the knife I put in you
My heart is broken as my ways
I never should've let it pass
This fall was never meant to last
The reason gone and damage stays
All the delicate ways
That had deepened our graves
My apology pales
Oh, the pain in your eyes
My regrets have never known such sorrow
Oh, the shame that you hide
Resolutions are the same tomorrow
Oh, the pain in your eyes

My regrets have never known such sorrow
Oh, the shame that you hide
Resolutions are the same tomorrow
I'm sorry
Just what do you think you're doing
Am I [Incomprehensible]
[Incomprehensible]All the delicate ways
That had deepened our graves
My apology pales
Oh, the pain in your eyes
My regrets have never known such sorrow
Oh, the shame that you hide
Resolutions are the same tomorrow
Oh, the pain in your eyes
My regrets have never known such sorrow
Oh, the shame that you hide
Resolutions are the same tomorrow
