Run

Disturbed

Run and hide again
Don't run away this time
Don't wonder why you can't clear this final sin
You know this story was over before it began
This is a battle you're not going to win!
Welcome the end!
I've spent a lifetime planning on your destruction
You're never gonna witness another day
A lonely life I'm planning out your destruction,
with no other function
You really don't know how long I've waited for your destruction
I'm telling you, you just can't get away
A whole lifetime planning on your destruction,
with no other function
You really don't know!
You better run!
Ask me why again, nowhere to go this time
Revenge will be mine again
Say good bye, my friend
Don't run away this time and die like a man!
There is no escape from my plan!
Welcome the end!
I've spent a lifetime planning on your destruction
You're never going to witness another day

A lonely life I'm planning out your destruction,
with no other function
You really don't know how long I've waited for your destruction
I'm telling you, you just can't get away
A whole lifetime planning on your destruction,
with no other function
You really don't know!
There is no reprieve
You don't have to look in my eyes
We'll turn their gaze away in time
You better run!
I've spent a lifetime planning on your destruction
You're never going to witness another day
A lonely life I'm planning out your destruction,

with no other function
You really don't know how long I've waited for your destruction
I'm telling you, you just can't get away
A whole lifetime planning out your destruction,
with no other function
You really don't know!!!
Welcome to the end
Run and hide again
Don't run away this time
Don't wonder why you can't clear this final sin
You know the story was over before it fucking began!
