Ever Since

Lesley Gore

I dreamt you
I drew you
Long before I thought that I might never find youI chased you
I traced you
And held your picture up into the lightAll the weight of nights and days to long to list
All the parties I've been to you were missed
I've waited ever sinceI met you
Tried to forget you
Even though I felt somehow someone had sent you hereTo me and as if you knew me
We picked up where we left off in another lifeAt times I've tried to settle out for so much less than this Saved only by the hope in every eyelash wish
I've waited ever sinceAll the weight of nights and days too long to list
All the parties I've been to you were missed
I'ved waited ever since
I met you
