If I Could

Lou Barlow

Wish I could be your lover, be your true lover
One day to be discovered lying next to you
But I know my lack of grace continues to turn you off
And this could be my fate here, never to be touched
Wish I could beI can feel it in the morning, nothing going on tonight
I get the feeling that my love for you's not right
I can't help thinking that you might not like my style
Watching television, let me chew on you awhileLove me tonight
Then, face down, love me tonightWhat if my fortune turns, will I turn away?
The battle of the heart we wage the quiet game we play
What if it's me unequal, I'm the one who's not Excited, forever withered in your touch
I'd miss you way too muchBut you'd feel it in the morning
Nothing going on tonight
You'd get the feeling that my love for you's not right
Always turning, but never turn away
I'll try to be patient, tell me everything's okayLove me tonight
