

The Leader

Elvira Madigan

I looked to the North, and I turned to the West,
For a sign, a light in the sky,
Oh the message is clear, that the time is near,
For a leader to come again;A circle of stones on the head of a hill,
 Tonight is where it will be,
 In this desolate place, we all stand and wait,
For a leader to come again, yes a leader will come again;For it is written, that a leader will be here,
 And then a vision, left me blinded by the light,
 And it started right in front of my eyes...
